

Creative Director: Emma Thompson

Designer: Jenny Hu

Project: Black Mirror

Overview: The Goal of my website is to be informational about the T.V. show. I want my viewers to discover the T.V. show, but to also reassess their connection to technology.

Notes

- Jenny was able to create a clean website that demonstrated my concept well
- I liked how she used the screen as the main text holder and keyboard keys in the dashboard
- I would like the text to not be so pushed into the laptop screen, Maybe the laptop could be enlarged or the text could be made smaller.
- Also there is the possibility of the keyboard keys moving into the screen and the screen filling the page. This would most likely connect the two elements together better.
- Overall, Jenny followed my design direction to the t.
