Project Title: Stephen Curry

I'd like to build this site as multiple pages. Site navigation on either left or right side of the page. And I don't want it to vve facts based, I want to include a lot of photography and videos in each sections. It would function kind of like a fan page or documentary of his life.

Home Page/Introduction – A short Bio for his career, and use a lot of interesting stats (numbers and images to draw viewers in)

Early life/ background

College career in Davidson

Professional Basketball career

Highlights/ record setting moments/

NBA Care (his donation and contributions)

Family and life outside of basketball

Feature his social media and other highlights in his life

Sources – the Wikipedia page, and all sources for photography and videos
