Mark Rothko Website

Multiple pages (probably on the left side) - stays where it is, but you can scroll through the rest of the page

Page of works (paintings-when you hover over the images, get info on them displayed as a grid) (include the paintings the wikipedia page highlights, like the seagram murals)

Page- artistic progression, different styles he went through page-rothko chapel, death, legacy lots of pictures, should be a nice and clean looking website, easy to navigate, simple just include a few sentences from each wikipedia section
