Project Topic: Extremes on Earth

Probably built as multiple pages with a photo on each page. They could either link to the other photo or it could be a slideshow-like thing on the page that you can click through.

Home page
Page with all the full-sized photos in slide-show format or that link to other full-sized photos. There should be facts of some sort either as a caption or maybe a caption that pops up if you hover your mouse over the image.

Fact page
Page with all the photos with a bit more in-depth facts about the extreme places

Display all the photos in grid-format or vertically down the line.

Sources
Probably just listing where you got the photos and facts.
