Designer: Victoria Chen

When Victoria and I met, the following was discussed in relation to her mockups:

- Nutella logo in the navigation bar on the left side
- Body text and navigation bar text smaller
- Body text could be in a different typeface than the header/nav bar
- Make sure that the text on the pages with full sized images is legible over the image
- I really like the contrast between the pages with full sized images and those with an image on one side with text on the other. Adds to the visual interest!
