- Play around with body type size and weight in order to make it more legible
- Outline the photos in a similar style as boxes in menu
- Make cast photos pictures of the characters
- More spacing between menu items so there is more room when selected
- Less tracking in character name, maybe try to make character name italicized or bold in order to differentiate from actor name
- Only include the 8 most important characters
- For the episodes, make the plot of a given episode align with the main hang line
- Box around episode name when selected
- Production photos in the same style as all other photos
- Only the body text scrolls on production page
- Hyperlinks throughout to Wikipedia pages?
